IN MEMORIAM

MAUDE E. CAPRON

ONE of the saddest events of the 1936-1937 school year was the sudden passing on May 13, 1937, of Miss Maude E. Capron, beloved chemistry teacher for over a quarter of a century. Unfortunately we were unable to pay tribute to her in the 1937 Newtonian, so it is with heartfelt sympathy for her untimely death that we dedicate this small portion of our year book to the memory of the teacher who gave so unsparingly of her time and energy to the training of Newton High School pupils.

Born in Woonsocket, Rhode Island, in 1871, Miss Capron received her primary education there, and later at the State Normal School. After graduating from Wellesley College, she taught at the High School in Ansonia, Connecticut, and then at Melrose High. In 1912 she inaugurated the career at Newton High which was to last for the rest of her life. Her sudden death from a heart attack while at her summer home at York Beach, Maine, came as a severe shock to the entire faculty and student body.

Miss Capron was admired and respected by her pupils not only as a fine teacher of chemistry, but as a person who gave them a background in the decorums of courtesy and fair play. Her gentle understanding of student problems endeared her to all of us who knew her. The memory of this teacher who so cheerfully devoted almost half her life to make us better men and women will last forever.

Born August 16, 1919. Died April 11, 1937

POST-GRADUATE CLASS

Adviser, MISS ANNE LEATHERS

THE Post-Graduate class is under the thoughtful guidance of Miss Leathers, who is always ready to give the particular advice needed by these special students.

Since their main purpose in remaining at high school for an extra year is to acquire sufficient units to enter higher institutions of learning, they devote their time to studying.

Although few extra-curricular activities are open to Post-Graduates, they participate freely in all musical organizations, such as the Band, Orchestra, and Glee Club.

ORGANIZATIONS

EVERY month there is held a meeting of the Legislature, the student representative law-proposing organization. Each Senior home room elects two representatives, each Junior home room one, and every two Sophomore home rooms one.

The Legislature this year accomplished a great deal. One of its most important works was the approval of a new set of traffic regulations proposed by the Board of Civics Affairs. A thorough discussion of safety and consideration of licenses for bicycles occupied several meetings. In addition, the Legislature considered the charters of two new clubs.

Much of the good work of the Legislature is done through the eight administrative boards.

HOME ROOM MANAGERS

Faculty Ticket Manager, MR. CARL SWAN

THE home room managers each year do a great deal of service by helping to encourage interest in the many activities of the school.

The major project of the year was the sale of Student Activities Tickets. Other successful drives included the faculty play, the senior play, various class dances, and school publications. Selling tickets for contests in sports, such as football, basketball, track, and baseball, was another duty of this body of students.

For their untiring publicity work and efficient handling of the tasks set for them, the home room managers deserve much credit.

A S S O C I A T E S S

President, ROBERT MYERS
Boys' Vice-President, MARK MESSIER
Secretary, DONALD MACKINNON

Girls' Vice-President, JANE ANSLEY
Treasurer, JEREMIAH ALLEN

IN 1924, a constitutional convention was called, following a student request for more participation in school government. There resulted from this meeting the Newton High School Associates, composed of every member of the school in good standing.

The Associates are represented by the Legislature. The Executive Council passes on measures proposed by this body.

The president presides at Legislature meetings and certain assemblies. He also appoints the administrative boards. In his absence, the boys' vice-president takes over his duties. The girls' vice-president is in charge of the girls' assembly, and, when necessary, replaces her two superiors. Under the direction of the clerk are the minutes of the Legislature and all school correspondence.

E X E C U T I V E C O U N C I L

THE Executive Council, in conjunction with the Legislature, form the governing organization for student affairs. All acts of the Legislature are submitted to the Executive Council for approval. It exerts general control of all student activities, directs the work of the administrative boards, grants club charters and initiates and approves legislation. It is composed of faculty supervisors and of a student representative from each board.

The members this year are as follows:

Miss Bigelow
Miss Burdon
Mr. Elicker

LUNCHROOM SQUAD

Chairman, NANCY FLAGG

Faculty Adviser, MR. LUCIUS JONES

THE 1937-1938 Lunchroom Squad, comprised principally of National Honor Society members, under the direction of Nancy Flagg, operated efficiently throughout the entire term. With the aid of the faculty, the various problems of order and cleanliness were considerably lessened.

Provisions for control of traffic were adequately made by the new regulations compiled by the Board of Civic Affairs and approved by the 1937-1938 Legislature.

Suggestions from the Legislature on various questions concerning lunchroom regulations were readily received and carried out wherever possible. Mr. Lucius Jones and the assisting faculty members proved to be of invaluable aid to the squad in every way.

RANGE SHIELD

THE Orange Shield was founded only two years ago by the Civics Board, and now, each year, twenty-five members from each class are chosen. These members include the most outstanding boys and girls who are thought to be molders of public opinion.

In addition, there is a council of six, two from each class, who are selected by the twenty-five of that class. This committee consists of Theodore Duffy, Lorraine Stickney, Robert Liming, Doris Carter, Kittredge Fisher, and Edith Alexander. This is the final advisory board.

The object of the Orange Shield is to uphold the best traditions of Newton High School's honesty and fair dealing. With Mr. Horace Kidger as its supervisor, this group is accomplishing a great deal.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

President, JAMES DEALY

Vice-President, VIRGINIA BROWN

Secretary, JOHN FERNALD

Treasurer, ERNEST COLANTONIO

Faculty Adviser, MISS EDITH M. RIDEOUT

THE National Honor Society is a chapter of a nation-wide organization founded for those pupils who best uphold the ideals and traditions of the school. Membership in the organization is based on character, service, leadership, and scholarship; pupils best portraying these qualities are picked from the upper twenty-five percent of the Junior and Senior classes; five percent from the former and fifteen percent from the latter.

The members render service to the school by helping in the offices and ushering at Parents' Night.

The annual induction ceremony of our chapter has been so excellent that it has been repeated several times in other schools. The four qualities were defined this year by the following: Character, Thomas O'Toole; Service, Ernest Colantonio; Leadership, Juliette Harvey; Scholarship, Virginia Brown.

Director, MR. HAYDN MORGAN

THE Glee Club, of one hundred voices, has had an unusually active year. Besides the usual Christmas participation at school, it similarly entertained employees at the City Hall, and patients and staff members at the Newton City Hospital.

It participated in the annual winter concert, the spring pageant, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," the Newton Forum, the Prize-Speaking Contest, Junior High School assemblies, Elementary School Parent Teachers' Association meetings, and at the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs conference.

Moreover, the Glee Club was signally honored in being invited to take part in a nation-wide broadcast on February nineteenth. This program was sponsored by the National Educators' Conference.

Drum Major, MARJORIE MILLARD Director, MR. CHARLES SPAULDING

THE band is one of the most distinguished organizations in the school. Under the baton of Marjorie Millard, it added color and spirit to the football games by forming some of the most intricate marching maneuvers ever seen on Dickinson Field.

The band's numerous activities included a musical assembly on May 3rd, and a concert before the pageant, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," early in June. During the year it co-operated with the Glee Club and orchestra in giving two concerts, also taking part in the Spring Festival.

Under the direction of Mr. Charles Spaulding it has more than lived up to the standards set by former bands.

R C H E S T R A

Director, MR. HAYDN M. MORGAN

DURING the 1938 season the high school orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Haydn M. Morgan, has appeared in various school assemblies, the mid-winter concert, school plays, Newton Forum meetings, and took a vitally important part in the performance of "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream."

Small ensembles from the orchestra also made several appearances for civic and school functions.

There are approximately fifty members in the orchestra, and an effort has been made to develop proper practice habits, to encourage serious study, and promote interest in orchestral participation. Selections performed were mainly by classical composers.

During 1938-1939 several instruments are to be added, which should insure better symphonic proportions.

VERSE-SPEAKING CHOIR

THE Verse-Speaking Choir was started in 1936 under the direction of Miss Jessie A. Southard to encourage oral reading of poetry. Last September seventeen Juniors and Seniors were selected, bringing the total number to twenty-five.

Throughout the year the group met every week. The girls were divided into two groups: those whose voices were of a high pitch, and those whose voices were lower. When the voices are blended, the effect of a chord is given.

At the Prize-Speaking Contest on April 1st, the choir gave its first performance of the year. Later, Wellesley College invited the group to take part in its annual Verse-Speaking Program. In June the choir had a part in "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

THE NEWTONITE

Editor-in-Chief, JAMES DEALY
Faculty Advisers, MR. LESTER WILLIAMS, MR. CARL BIRMINGHAM, MISS FLORA SMITH

THE sixteenth volume of The Newtonite introduced several new features for the enjoyment of its many subscribers. Under the able leadership of the editor-in-chief, Jim Dealy, a really different newspaper published twenty-two issues.

Most noticeable among the many variations was the change to a better grade of paper. Page one was handled by co-news editors instead of the customary one editor. A new feature, faculty flashes, served to introduce the new teachers. Changes on page two saw the abandonment of the gossip column in favor of the more novel "Heresay, Hearsay." Page four features included "Wearing the 'N'" and "Little Imrie Says." A new staff of photographers enabled the publication of pictures of all events.

The faculty advisers, Lester Williams, Flora Smith, and Carl Birmingham deftly carried out their duties as publication, literary, and business advisers respectively.

Newtonite charms for distinguished service were awarded to Jim Dealy, Shirley Fuller, Michael Golden, Carolyn Harrigan, Juliette Harvey, Marcia Jackson, Sylvia Pierce, Elizabeth Sarafian, Frank Scheehl, Charlotte Steitz, Grace Ver Planck, and Claire Wilson. Honorable mention was given Louise Russo, Mary Smith, Anne Woods, and Barbara Woodworth.

COMMITTEE OF 88

88

THE publication of The Oriole, successor to The Newton Quill (1932), was made possible by the efficient co-operation of the Committee of 88 as business managers. On this committee, which worked in conjunction with the Tusitala Club, each English class in school had one representative.

Beginning in January, the members conducted a subscription campaign to discover whether the undertaking was feasible; for the next three months they gathered from their divisions the written work from which the material appearing in The Oriole was chosen; in April they collected the money promised in the subscription drive; and in May they distributed the printed copies.

Faculty Adviser, MISS CAROLINE M. DOONAN

THE Orange Book, which is published each September by the Newton High School Legislature, is a handbook designed primarily for those who are new to the school. The book is compiled and sold by a staff of Juniors under the experienced supervision of Miss Caroline M. Doonan, assisted by Miss Katherine Curtis.

The Orange Book first appeared in 1922. At that time it was a booklet of thirty pages, published by the Student Council. Its size is now much more impressive, for the 1937-1938 issue contains one hundred twenty-eight pages of information, useful not only to Sophomores, but to all members of the school.

N E W T O N I A N N

THE Newtonian has for twenty-eight years represented the efforts of a large group of seniors in showing the activities and achievements, not only of the graduating class, but of the sophomores and juniors as well.

This year, to improve the circulation staff, representatives were chosen from every home room to take care of the sales. Under the direction of Manager Virginia Brown, these delegates met often and conducted a very successful campaign.

The twelve editors, working in collaboration with their staffs, were guided by the kindly and helpful advice of Mr. Sterling Williams.

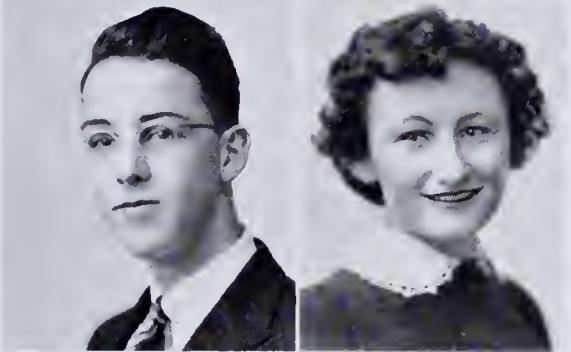

New features in this year's publication include different arrangement of pages and an enlarged feature section.

THE Drama Club is one of the most popular and valuable organizations in the school. The principal production of the year 1937-1938 was "A Midsummer Night's Dream," a beautiful pageant combining the work of many departments of the school.

"Why the Chimes Rang," "The Valiant," and the third act of "Journey's End" were presented at various assemblies. Mrs. Hortense Railsback and Curtis Beach with his marionettes entertained the club at two meetings.

The Drama Club Workshop functioned busily throughout the year. Barbara Woodworth served as chairman, and Marguerite Messer as secretary-treasurer.

THE Neophytes began in 1928 through the efforts of Mrs. Bemis. It is devoted to the promotion of dramatics among the sophomores, and a short play is presented at each meeting. The following selections were featured this year: "The Florist Shop," "A Minuet," "The Man in the Bowler Hat," and "The Unseen."

In March the club presented its annual production, "The First Dress Suit," at a Sophomore assembly. This year four volumes of plays were presented to the school library by the members of the club.

THE Puppeteers was established in 1935, to provide a means whereby those interested in puppetry could exchange ideas, and learn to operate puppets.

Every year the members of the club produce a play, making the scenery and the puppets themselves. The first year "Aladdin" was given. Last year the club presented "The Legend of Fin M'Coul" at a sophomore assembly. This season's offering was a revival of the old tale of "Hansel and Gretel."

Each meeting was spent in discussing the plans for the play, and in making the scenery and costumes.

S

STAGE CREW

W

THE stage committee forms an essential part of every play production on the Newton High School stage. Each year Mr. Charles Peterson, the faculty adviser, selects the members on the basis of their merit.

The faculty play, "Abraham Lincoln," presented a problem. Six changes of scenery were required. The Senior play, "Leave It to Psmith," had five set changes, including a street scene and a subway. The staging and lighting of the Drama Club's presentation, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," were adroitly handled by the crew.

FACULTY PLAY

“ABRAHAM LINCOLN”

ON November 12, the faculty opened the school's theatrical season with John Drinkwater's memorable “Abraham Lincoln,” in which Raymond A. Green took the title role. The action took place during the time from just previous to Lincoln's nomination to the night of his death.

The role of Mrs. Lincoln was taken by Helen E. Nute of “Christopher Bean” fame. The two chroniclers were impressively portrayed by Samuel Thurber and Julius Warren. The members of Lincoln's cabinet were depicted by Paul E. Elicker, Walter M. Taylor, Lester Williams, Charles Mergendahl, Arthur Johnson, and Carl Birmingham. The characterizations of E. Louise Richardson, and Caroline Doonan clearly contrasted the two lines of thought of that period. Daniel Koughan, as a freed slave, gave a remarkably convincing performance.

The others who assisted in this outstanding classic were: Carl Swan, Edith Newcombe, Frederick Hussey, Charles Harrington, Daniel Willard, and Thomas Walters.

Credit and congratulations are due to Blanche F. Bemis, the coach of one more successful faculty production.

S

"LEAVE IT TO PSMITH"

IN January the Senior class presented the Wodehouse-Hay comedy, "Leave It to Psmith." Ellis Dierdorff portrayed the title role with alertness and gusto. Ann Reynolds lent charm and intelligence to the role of Eve Halliday.

Others who effectively formed a part of the background were Joan Cox, Peter Geisler, Virginia Wilson, Richard Keefe, Natalie Norton, Oliver Wyman, Leonard Accettullo, Sally Cushing, Parker Pitts, Mona Hoitt, Charles Brickett, Julian Allen, James Scharfenburg, Irene Butchart, Barbara Davis, Augustin Root, and Donald Fulton.

Much of the success of the production was due to the work of Miss Haworth as coach, Miss Murray as costumer, Miss White as property director, and Mr. Charles Peterson, stage director.

Senior Play Committee: Ernest Colantonio, Chairman; George Black, Irene Butchart, Shirley Fuller, Michael Golden, Juliette Harvey, Lee Pattison, Lorraine Stickney, and Grace Ver Planck.

A MID-SUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM M

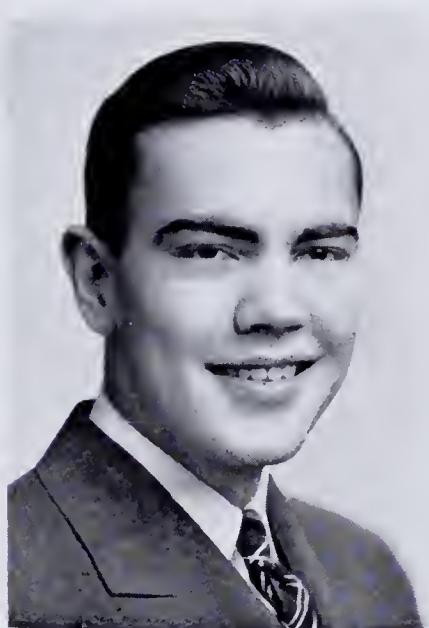

INSTEAD of the usual major performance, the Drama Club this year sponsored an all-school pageant, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," presented in the Stadium, June third.

The play itself was acted by the members of the club against a background of a rostrum surrounded by trees beautifully lighted. The fairy dancing indicating close of scenes and acts, and incidental dancing in the play were the work of the Girls' Physical Education Department. The costuming of the whole production was designed and carried out by the Household Arts, Art, and Industrial Arts Departments.

The pageant served as an opportunity for all the musical organizations, including the band, orchestra, chorus, and Glee Club. In addition, the Verse-Speaking Choir assisted in parts of the play.

P RIZE-SPEAKING CONTEST T

UNDER the auspices of the English Club, the Annual Prize-Speaking Contest was conducted for Juniors and Seniors. The final eight contestants were selected after two preliminary eliminations and were then coached by Miss Helen B. Lee and Mr. T. Jerome Cutting for the ultimate performance.

This year the Junior class was ably represented by three girls and two boys: Constance Elrod, Mavise Hayden, Barbara Tower, Leon Kruger, and William Stark. The Senior contestants were Juliette Harvey, Joseph Palmieri, and Ellis Dierdorff.

The winners and their selections were Juliette Harvey, with "On Skating," by Cornelia Otis Skinner, and William Stark, with "The Unknown Soldier," by Bruce Barton.

For the first time, books were awarded as prizes, these being received not only by the winners, but also by the six other contestants.

The judges of the final decision were Dean Josephine E. Holmes, Mr. Charles T. Wingate, and Mr. Ernest T. Kuebler.

THE Tusitala Club was started in 1935 to encourage creative writing. Last October nine Juniors and Seniors were selected on the merit of their manuscripts. Later five Sophomores were admitted.

During the meetings manuscripts written by the members were read and discussed. Occasionally the club as a whole attempted to write in a definite form, such as the triolet or sonnet.

The big achievement of the year was a publication entitled The Oriole, sponsored and arranged by club members. This comprised outstanding contributions written in the English classes during the year.

The Oriole proved to be very successful and well represented the literary achievements of our school.

THE Library Club, composed of fifteen Seniors and ten Juniors who are elected to membership each fall, has for fifteen years served the school in aiding Miss Bigelow, the librarian, with the general work of the library. This work consists of such tasks as filing newspapers, recording overdue books, and arranging and cataloguing material.

So successful was the previous year's debate with the Boys' Debating Club, that the popular event was duplicated this year on the amusing subject, Resolved: "That Man's Place Is in the Home."

This season, a year's subscription to the popular magazine Stage was presented to the Library by the club.

ALPHA BETA, founded in 1921 by Mr. Thurber, head of the English Department, has had the most flourishing year in its history. With a membership of over one hundred, it has conducted interesting meetings including an inspiring talk by the ever popular Mr. Cronan, motion pictures by Mr. Green, and a presentation of "The Headless Horseman," one of Will Rogers' earliest appearances.

As usual Alpha Beta sponsored the Sophomore Prize-Reading of original manuscripts. It was decided that this year no first prize would be awarded and that each of the eight final participants would receive a book.

THE English Club aims to provide programs of literary interest and to serve the school in as many ways as possible.

This year the program committee presented various worthwhile speakers including Mrs. Ruth Wolfe Fuller and Mrs. Malcolm Green, book reviewers; Miss Charlotte Paul; Miss Inez Hall and Leonard Dowdy from Perkins Institute; and Mrs. George Van Gorder, authority on Chinese literature.

The club again has sponsored the Prize-Speaking, the Essay, and the Verse Contests, presenting books to all winners.

At a Senior assembly, Dr. Fred Winslow Adams gave an inspiring address on Shakespeare. The club is again donating a sum of money to the school library.

Professor Haskell of Boston University and Mr. Stimson, who has studied in Germany, spoke at two of the meetings. A Christmas party based on German customs and the annual dinner at a German restaurant were special features of the successful 1937-1938 season.

WHEN Le Cercle Français was established in December, 1908, under the supervision of Mary Stone Bruce, it was anticipated that its members would gain a wider understanding of spoken French, the customs, and the people of France. The year 1937-1938 has carried on this aim by its varied and entertaining programs. Talks about modern France have been given by two of our own French teachers, and an interesting diversion was the performance of an amusing French play, "La Faim est un Grand Inventeur."

ALPHA GAMMA TAU, the Mathematics Club, was started in 1902. It has two aims: first, to teach appreciation of the usefulness of the present branches of mathematics; second, to entertain the members with a variety of mathematical puzzles and contests.

To satisfy the artistic minded, a Tanagram Contest was held; for new skill in the science of math, the solving of indeterminate equations was taught; and finally, Alpha Gamma Tau's Scholastic Mathematics Contest was sponsored. The club presented to the school "Mathematics for the Million" by Hogben.

THE Social Studies Club was founded in 1926, with the aim of presenting interesting information to its members in the form of talks, movies, and discussions.

During the year some of the programs enjoyed were coronation films and a reel on past events. Illustrated travel talks were given by Betty Sheridan, her subject being her trip to Ireland; by Mr. Elicker, who talked on his visit to many of the high schools in the country; and by John Callihan, who explained the movies he had taken during his travels to Bermuda and the West Indies. The high light of the year, however, was a Christmas party in which prize contests were held and refreshments served.

Secretary, THOMAS O'TOOLE

DURING the past seven years, while debating everywhere has been adopting a "team" character, Mr. Holmes has guided the Boys' Debating Club along a policy of active participation for everyone who is interested.

This past season has indeed been successful. The schedule included two dual interscholastic debates: one against Watertown on the "unicameral" legislative proposition; the other at Boston College High School on the question of a larger United States Navy.

In looking back over the past season, nothing gives us more satisfaction than the debate against the Library Club. Their last year's decision in favor of the Library Club, that "Women Are Human Beings," was avenged by proving that "Man's Place Is in the Home," a victory for the Debating Club.

THE Knitting Club was organized in 1936 by a group of Junior and Senior girls. Its purpose is both educational and social, inasmuch as it brings together those devotees of the art of knitting.

The club enables its members to see what other girls are accomplishing, to get new ideas, and to compare notes in general. Beginners, too, are encouraged to join the ranks and be initiated into the intricacies of knitting, purling, picking up lost stitches, clever patterns, and various types of stitches.

Knitting books and samples of yarns are always procurable, and Mrs. Newcomb is ready to help and advise at all times.

THE Microphone Club came into existence two years ago. Its chief interests are in writing script, in learning more about the fine points of broadcasting, and in actual radio work. A tryout is necessary before one is admitted to the club. The main requirements are a good voice and distinct pronunciation.

In addition to listening to several distinguished speakers, the club members themselves made radio broadcasts. Several members also spoke over station WAAB on the subject "The High School Views the Junior High."

Besides this, the club submitted to the National Broadcasting Company Scholastic Script Contest a fifteen-minute program entitled "The Faults of Parents from the Student's Point of View."

THIS, the eleventh year of the Camera Club, was the most outstanding of its history. Through the excellent guidance of Mr. Sterling Williams and the great co-operation shown by the members, several new projects were carried out. Also, because of the large membership, it was possible to hold a contest every month with cash prizes. The high points of the club year were the sponsoring of the annual school contest, and also of a state-wide high school contest.

The club had as speakers such outstanding men as Mr. Weierick, Mr. Franklin Jorden, and Mr. George Shelton.

Trips were made to the Boston and Norwood Airports, where the members made their flights, and to the Navy Air Base at Squantum. Excellent motion pictures were shown depicting model plane meets in the East, and giving an idea of gas model activity on the West Coast.

THE Science Activities Club, organized in 1936, has again had an eventful year.

The nature of the organization is such that individual and small group work is, in the main, the greatest planned activity. In the course of this work many things of a very intricate type have been constructed, such as telescopes, radios, and scientific scales, to cite but a few.

Another activity of consuming interest to most of the members is photography.

The outstanding field trip made by the club was to the Massachusetts Television Institute, where members witnessed a demonstration of the most recent advances in the widely discussed science of television.

After each business meeting the club was entertained by its members. Edward Mahoney gave an instructive talk on "Customs in Madeira and Northern Africa." Mary Lou Melcher showed some Audubon bird slides and pictures.

Two outstanding events were a trip to the Boston Museum of Natural History, and an annual visit to the Harvard Observatory early in May.

In 1924 the Home Economics Club came into existence, and since then it has been an important factor in the activities of the high school. The organization is composed of members of the Home Economics curriculum.

The year's program opened with a get-acquainted party. Later several fine speakers were heard. Some of the meetings were devoted to the study of charm and manners. A picnic brought the season's activities to a close.

Among other services which the club rendered to the school was the presentation to the library of "The Citadel," by A. J. Cronin. In addition, an essay contest on charm was conducted.

AFTER three years of hard riding, the Cavalry Club has become one of the most active clubs in the school.

Because of the large number interested, the club has been able to arrange for a great deal of riding at a small expense. During the winter, arrangements were made to ride indoors.

NOW completing its fifth year, the Girls' Outing Club, under Miss Loysen's supervision, continues to fulfill its purpose — that of promoting good sportsmanship and leadership through outdoor activity and healthful recreation. Members are selected by means of a questionnaire concerning their interests and accomplishments in athletics.

The first meeting was in the form of a get-acquainted tea. Other programs included a talk on skiing by Mr. Wolf Larsson, movies of sports, and an informal meeting at the home of a member, during which Mr. Robert Morrill told of his experiences in Arizona. Some of the outings enjoyed by the members were roller-skating, bowling, a skating party in the Arena, and a swimming party.

TOPPING off their schedule with a decisive victory against Brookline in the annual Thanksgiving Day battle, the Newton High football team completed one of its most successful seasons in recent years. Although three defeats, received from Arlington, Everett, and Brockton, marred the record, the first two of these opponents were completely outplayed, but were smiled upon by Lady Luck. Since Brockton was reputed to be the outstanding eleven in the state, Newton is not disgraced athletically in losing to a stronger and smoother-working outfit. Especially satisfying was a long-sought victory over Waltham.

Bill Johnston, whose tragic death was mourned by the entire school, was the honorary captain, while Ted Duffy carried on actively as leader. The co-captains for the coming year are Bob Liming and John Fitzgerald.

About eighteen lettermen receive diplomas in June so that temporarily next year's team is an unknown quantity. However, it is a certainty that by September, head coach Ralph Sanborn, with Mr. Consodine and Mr. Johnson as assistants, will mold a potential squad.

BY finishing the 1937-1938 season with an official record of seven games won and only three lost, the Varsity basketball squad was able to capture second place in the Suburban League. With a nucleus of nine veterans from the previous year, Coaches Simmons and Wilson gave Newton another of its fighting teams that functioned smoothly under the steady leadership of Captain Leger. After trouncing Watertown in the season's opener, the hoopsters took Cambridge Latin, Rindge, Arlington, Waltham, and Brookline to finish the first half of their schedule with a clean slate.

The second half was marred only by losses to Rindge and Arlington. The season's finale saw Belmont, champions of the Middlesex League, eke out a victory over Newton by one point in the closing minutes of play.

Co-Managers, JOHN CODY, WILLIAM KOSINA

UNDER the excellent supervision of Head Coach Don Enoch, with Charles Consodine and Lamoine Boyle as assistants, the Newton High Indoor Track Team rounded out another successful campaign.

Newton has enjoyed outstanding seasons recently, and this year was no exception. Arrayed with such luminaries as MacKinnon, Hines, Pescosolido, Babcock, and Callihan, to name only a few of the point-getters, the team emerged victorious in all but one dual meet with Lowell, including among their triumphs the big Northeastern, Andover, and State competitions. Of the victories, the dual battle with Brockton was the only one not captured by a handsome margin.

Co-captained by Jerry Allen and Bud Hines, the outfit was very powerful in all departments except the weight events.

Although there were a goodly number of Seniors on the squad, many Juniors and Sophomores remain to form a backbone for next year's team, which will be led by Co-captains elect Don MacKinnen and Billy Pescosolido. Therefore, Newton can look forward to another auspicious season, to perpetuate the worthy tradition set by many preceding teams.

ALTHOUGH the Newton High School hockey team finished in the cellar of the Greater Boston League, neither the coach nor the squad is responsible for the unsuccessful season. Very few veterans remained from the previous campaign, and, as a consequence, the material was green and inexperienced. Therefore, in all justice to Coach Evan Johnson, it must be stated that under his able tutelage the team played as good a brand of hockey as it possibly could, and the results should not be criticized.

The pucksters, led by Captain Ben Mason, have learned by their mistakes, and, unless unfortunate circumstances occur, will be a proficient and well-groomed outfit next winter. Only three or four lettermen graduate this June, leaving a goodly number of veterans to form a nucleus for next year's sextet, whose achievements should be far greater. This season may readily be regarded as a stepping stone to bigger and better things in the future.

WITH but three letter-winners returning from the championship campaign of last year, Coach Jeff Jones was forced to field a truly rookie team against Arlington in the season's opener. The natural nervousness on the part of the newcomers was manifested by a series of runs, hits, and errors in the visitor's first inning. After getting by the bad first stanza, however, the Orange and Black settled down behind the steady pitching of Mario Pignatelli, and with some heavy hitting by the Johns—Martin, Fitzgerald, and Pescosolido, brought its total of runs to eight. But it was too late, and Arlington triumphed 12-8. Newton then came back strong against Waltham and defeated them 9-7 behind the effective twirling of John Pozzi. After dropping contests to Brookline, Arlington, Rindge, and Cambridge Latin, the last a great pitching duel that Pignatelli lost 2-1, Newton again surged forward to smother Waltham 12-2. After stopping the Watch City boys Pozzi went ahead to hold the league leaders, Cambridge Latin, to seven scattered hits, while his team-mates pounded two Cantab hurlers for seven runs. The final score was 7-4.

In view of the fact that his material was so inexperienced, Coach Jones deserves credit for molding Newton's fighting nine.

AGAIN this year, a brilliant, star-studded group represented the 1938 outdoor track forces of Newton High. The team just couldn't be kept down with such record-breakers as Hines, MacKinnon, and Pescosolido, and the consistent point-winners, Callihan, Hall, Babcock, Cheney, Allen, and MacNeil.

The Terriers coasted through some stiff competition in the Worcester Polytech Interscholastics, the Newton, Brockton, Lowell, Boston English quadrangular meet, and the Brookline dual contest, with every member of the squad garnering precious points. The high light of the season came when Newton retained its Class B crown at the Harvard Interscholastic games. In this meet the record breaking trio performed as never before. Bud Hines accomplished the unbelievable by twice running the 100-yard dash in ten seconds. Not to be outdone, Don MacKinnon ran his specialty, the low hurdles, in 13.9 seconds to shatter all existing meet records. State Champion Billy Pescosolido then proved his ability by soaring to the dizzy height of six feet, two inches in the running high jump.

In view of their power and fine coaching by the Messrs. Enoch, Boyle, and Consodine, the boys should ride the crest of the victory waves for the remainder of the season.

THE net team of Newton High continued the winning ways of last year's unbeaten squad and took seven straight matches from Milton Academy, Huntington, Melrose, Brockton, Haverhill, Worcester Academy, and Worcester North respectively, each victory being emphasized by a decisive score. The match with Worcester North brought together Bill Power, seventeenth ranking Junior player in America, and Captain Don Manchester of Newton in what was probably the best battle of the season.

Led by Manchester, Al Everts, Ernie Johnson, and Les Lowry, the team easily captured the eleventh annual State Interscholastics in which both Manchester and Everts were seeded. Not only did Newton win these matches, but it made them a family affair by placing three, Manchester, Everts, and Johnson, in the semi-finals. Of the trio, Manchester gained the finals, but was defeated in a close match by the brilliant Power. Les Lowry, Stu Pattison, Tom Peebles, Philip Scanlon, and Earle Vaughan completed the varsity squad.

The second team, comprised of Bill Daly, Leon Kruger, Merle Gulick, Ted Saunier, Bill Betz, Bob Davis, and Clark Fisher, also triumphed in several matches.

INTEREST in golf in Newton High School is steadily increasing as was evidenced by the large squad reporting for the practice rounds at Albemarle this spring. The presence of four veterans in the group justified anticipation of a most successful season. The loss of two of these men and the continued success of the team's strongest opponents, Arlington and Lexington, somewhat dimmed these high hopes. However, as the Newtonian goes to press, the record shows four wins, one tie, and two losses; and with three more matches to play, the team hopes to better the record of last year's sextet.

Even with the loss of Balkus, Lochiatto, Stone, and Burke this year, Mr. Walters feels that there are bright prospects of building a winning team around Presbrey, Coletti, Marcele, Tempesta, and Hughes in 1939.

As the interest in golf grows greater, more and more schools are sponsoring teams. Consideration is now being given to the inclusion of Cambridge High and Latin, and Rindge Tech to the Greater Boston League which at present is made up of Lexington, Arlington, Watertown, Waltham, Brookline, and Newton.

THE elusiveness of this year's snow put a sudden end to the booming start of our Newton High ski team. Practice was held quite regularly at nearby country clubs, and the first meet of an impressive schedule was held at Mt. Hood, Melrose. In this, Newton ranked fourth among a score of secondary schools. The dearth of snow necessitated postponements of plans for meets with schools throughout the state.

Organization of a smaller, more wieldy team was developed by those in charge. This nucleus should be able to start the team's next season with the enthusiasm necessary to make the school ski-conscious.

Newton has been among the first to develop the awakening interest manifested by an increasing number of schools hereabouts, and with the spirit of skiing reaching new heights every year, this sport promises to rank high in the list of school activities. If and when snow comes next year, a still larger number of candidates shouting "Ski Heil!" should have the thrill of this great sport.

GIRLS' FIELD HOCKEY

Coach, ADELE LOYSEN

FROM the large number of girls that reported to Miss Loysen for field hockey practice this fall, twenty-four were selected to represent the Varsity squad. This group was then divided into two teams, led by Lorraine Stickney and Betty Cunningham, co-captains, and Doris Carter. The remaining girls made up the class teams. The Junior team won the annual hockey tournament held later in the season.

Newton's first team won games with Brookline, Watertown, and the alumnae, but was defeated by Waltham. The second team finished up with a record of one win, one tie, and one defeat.

As has been the custom for the past few years, the Boston Field Hockey Association supervised another playday on the Newton High field.

At the Girls' Assembly, varsity "N's" were awarded to Inez Cardinelli, Sally Cushing, Ruth Eddy, Betty Fletcher, Jean Hurley, Ruth Jones, Geraldine Kirby, Theresa Mingace, Eleanor Pullman, Mary Reidy, and Manager Barbara Strange. Chevrons for second year membership on the Varsity were presented to Betty Cunningham, Barbara Patey, and Lorraine Stickney. Thirteen girls on the second team were given small "N's".

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Coach, ADELE LOYSEN

After a month's intense practice on fundamentals with Miss Loysen, every girl who went out for basketball was placed on a class team. Lorraine Stickney, Erminia Mancini, and Lillian Nardone were chosen captains of the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore squads respectively. Each team played four games. The Seniors and Juniors were victorious in all of their contests, while the Sophomores were unable to win any. This marks the third consecutive year that the Senior team has gone unbeaten. The teams of all three classes participated in a basketball playday with seven other private and public schools.

The inter-class winners who received their 1938 numerals are: Janet Allanbrook, Ruth Baird, Captain Ruth Eddy, Virginia Rowland, Nancy Ryan, Irene Sampson, and Arlene Webster.

An honorary varsity squad, selected at the close of the season, played and defeated both the alumnae and the faculty. Large "N" awards were given to the following: Katherine Anderson, Inez Cardinelli, Betty Cunningham, Ruth Jones, Betty Manness, Marjorie Millard, Linda Smith, and Captain Lorraine Stickney.

GIRLS' TENNIS

GIRLS' TENNIS

Coach, MARYWELL LEITER

TENNIS is rapidly becoming one of the most universal of all leisure sports. This growing interest for the game on the part of high school girls has been made manifest by the large numbers that have responded to the call for practice for the past few years. And this year was no exception. From the large number of girls that turned out Miss Leiter had the difficult task of segregating the varsity material. A ladder tournament of four weeks' duration was held and the seven ranking players in this competition comprise the varsity squad. They are: Lydia Ciccone, Valia Ciccone, Bette Manness, Theresa Mingace, Mary Maguire, Ruth Eddy, Barbara Goldman, and Lorraine Stickney and Linda Smith, substitutes.

In addition to the varsity team matches, each year a Senior, Junior, and Sophomore Tournament is held in the way of inter-class competition.

"THE NEWTON PROPHET"

CROWDS SEE GALA FLAGG PREMIERE

Nov. 30, 1945 (N. H. S.)

Even the well-known cynic, Albert Haynes, termed Miss Flagg's latest endeavor the greatest success of the current theatrical season. Under the capable direction of Ernest Colantonio, Reynolds and Dierdorff, who are fast taking the place of Lunt and Fontaine, presented the performance of their careers. The exotic Miss Wilson was a member of the able supporting cast.

Headliners further down Broadway were Ruthie Randolph and Charles Clarke, those two great exponents of "the dance."

Among the first nighters was Mrs. Follett (nee Bettie Burrows), charming in a new creation from the salon of Jayne and Jane (Jewett and Ely). The Misses Cryan, Cox, MacCormick, and Hamilton were among those present.

Coming Attractions

That much anticipated and discussed play, Shakespeare's "Midsummer's Nightmare," opens next month at Minsky's. The renowned tragedian, Doris Mergendahl, will be seen in her now famous role in which she made her debut in '38. Ever faithful to the arts is Hugh Van Roosen depicting the ass. Incidental music has been written by Peter Cutelis. Rumor has it that the reorganized WPA Orchestra unit no. 3,000,000,001, led by Charles Nightingale, substituting for Harry Hopkins, will interpret the score.

In Boston Jean Kennison and Joy Wingett, members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra under the able direction of Charles Kitchen, will open the coming symphony season.

EX-NEWTON STARS RECEIVE LAURELS

Newton, Nov. 30, 1945 (N.H.S.)

Captained by that player of all times, Ted Duffy, the great pro team, made up almost entirely of ex-Newton stars, ended the football season with a 36-0 victory. Fernald, Fisher, Mason, Wheldon, Palmieri, Castoldi, Callahan, Burns, Colvin, and Myers are playing their old positions with even greater dexterity than during that memorable season of '38.

On Ice

The hockey season, too, brings out a collection of former Newtonites. "Shrimp" McClellan is playing goalie for them. If the season runs true to form, Klein and Leger will come in for their share of the cheering as they used to.

Cinders

With those three Olympic champs, Babcock, Messier, and Hines, running at the Garden next month, the grand rush for ringside seats is well underway. By the way, did you see the court at Wimbledon, with Manchester out front on the center court, and Barry and Pattison, resting on his brother's laurels, close seconds? So, you sports followers, 1938 still marches on!

The Misses Howatt and Gale have gone to the city for a few days to attend biology lectures.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30, 1945 (N. H. S.)

Secretarial unemployment hits a new high in Washington this week as "Bev" Booth takes over all secretaryships. From the hill comes word that our first great woman dictator, Sister Harvey, has appointed her lieutenants, among them being Peter Geisler, Donald Lee, and Peter Ayer; the former "hear no evil, see no evil, speak no evil" boys, now replaced by Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. The recent appointment of Dr. J. B. Dealy as personal physician to the dictator did not come as a surprise to his old Newton friends. Senator "Filibuster" Higgins is causing no end of trouble in the Senate. Senator Vaughan strongly advocates reversible (miss) ski-tows.

Suits

The Senate investigation of the law firm of Gruber, Guterman, Guberman, and Golden brought to light astounding facts concerning the Taylor-Tower breach of promise suit recently in the headlines.

TEN LITTLE SOPHOMORES

Ten little Sophomores, future looking fine,
One got Miss Waldmeyer, then there were nine.

Nine helpless Sophomores, one did not wait
In line in the lunchroom, then there were eight.

Eight noisy Juniors, sounded like eleven,
Patsy pacified them; then there were seven.

Seven wise Juniors, full of witty tricks,
Met Mr. Foster; then there were six.

Six foggy Juniors, not seeming quite alive,
Tried to skip a gym class; then there were five.

Five haughty Seniors, to them math was a bore.
One threw chalk at Mergendahl; then there were four.

Four mighty Seniors thought to have a spree.
Tried swing in Remley's theory class; then there were three.

Three sagacious Seniors thought all there was they knew.
One told Rinker, then there were two.

Two haggard Seniors, finals had begun;
Finals had ended, then there was one.

One single graduate thought college would be fun;
Flunked out in his mid-years, then there were none.

GRIMOUS LAST WORDS

SENIORS—BACKGROUND SCENERY

Prologue: An Alibic Apology

Verse-Speaking Choir (magna cum voce)

Solos, J. Harvey: Vergil had one as a child

Chorus, Chanting: Euripides and Sophocles

: In ancient Rome they grew 'em wild,
: Euripides and Sophocles.
: Yes, lofty Grecians tossed them 'round
: Euripides and Sophocles.
: In playful mood from pyre to mound
: Euripides and Sophocles.
: They served them up with buttered scrolls
: Euripides and Sophocles
: And voted for 'em at the polls
: Euripides and Sophocles.
: O, poets wore them in their hair
: Euripides and Sophocles
: And toga-lapels got their share
: Euripides and Sophocles.
: Tandem on a Roman bubble
: Euripides and Sophocles
: From Roman bath the last of trouble
: Euripides and Sophocles.
: O, 't ain't no use, it ain't no use
: Euripides and Sophocles
: To start in life without a Muse.
: Gemitus Pectore — Ave!

Recitation — Sophomore Style

Aldy: Feminine follies — we are acquainted

With Cryan and Burrows both antedated (dated early).

In a word, the Follies, the Follies forsoothie —

Stevenson, Fales, LeBarron, and Ruthie.

What matters if 'twas slightly tame? At least at last he knows her name!

B. Booth: Of politics — First Election

Ye Didos wait to no avail —

'Twas Johnston, Robey, Booth, and Bail.

Cultural: by a verse-speaker

Prize-Speaking: Hitch your wagon to a star

Now cut your string — (ha-ha).

Gungadin Pattison, man of the hour

When skis and sophomores were in flower.

Fond laurels girt upon the knee

Of Juliette for "A Child's Plea."

Junior Nuntii (clothed in modesty)

Horticultural: Second Election

The last of the Harvey's executive;

The rest in order consecutive

Myers, Mergendahl, Colantonio —

Euripides and Sophocles.

Agricultural: Second Dance

The second dance; complete success.

Astronomical: "Three-Cornered Moon" (we never took biology)

Ann the lovable, Ann the fair,
Ann ran amuck,* let down her hair.
Brady, Bernhardt, and Cornell
— And one can never tell!

*Plagiarism.

Having Attained Status:

Election: (Another one of those darned things, and this one has two vice-presidents! We give up.)
It was Duffy, Colantonio, Myers, Fernald, and Bail again.

Dealy: Orchids for the Satellites,
Dealys, and the Newtonites.
For editing-in-chief, James.
We're sorry we can't mention names
(We know a lovely pun).

Field-Day: Manly exhibition
Gentlemen, we give you Hines;
You'll have to read between the lines.
Martin, Mason, and a score
Of others yet and several more.

And the Gym-Bloomer Brigade:
Miss Stickney, by all laws of fate,
Has first stepped into woman's state.

Drama: Truth is stranger than fiction: "Leave It to Psmith." Is a play you can't mith.
(You must remember the contest)
Ann turns in a 4-alarm,
Dierdorff and his charming charm.
Other players less important
(Yet the cast couldn't have done without them.)
Cox and Geisler and Natalie Norton (t).
(Also V. Wilson and Mr. Accetullo).

Shakespearian:

All England's Jest — yes, rule Britannia!
For Juliette is now Titania.
One for the money, two for the show,
Three to get ready and two to go (Doris Mergendahl and Hugh Van Roosen).
Scarce audience was left at all —
The cast itself hath filled the hall.

Vox Pop.:

Prize Speaking: Harvey, once more claimed a winner,
Knows victory's kiss and C. O. Skinner.

National Honor Society:

Chief Dealy shows his face again,
A leader of the best of men.
Here genius burns in growing flame
And every prince may find his name.

Torrential: Annual Senior Talent Night —
Charley Clarke is crowned Snow White.
The Senior Prom — let's have another,
This year they say he met her mother. (Mere rumor.)

Essay: Contributions accepted — none discarded.

Much dither on Lord Thurber's part —
Succumbed to head and lost his heart.
Nancy Flagg — 'twas in the bag.

Finis, Finis, Finit.
